

Autodesk 2009 Asia Pacific Authorised Training Centre Award

Autodesk has recently announced that KarelCAD has been awarded the 2009 Asia Pacific Authorised Training Centre Award.

This prestigious award has been given to KarelCAD based on overall performance such as instructor performance, student evaluation responses, new product adoption and customer satisfaction. Autodesk recognises outstanding partners for their achievement and contribution to the Autodesk products.

This award follows on from the previous 2006-2007 Autodesk ATC Award for Excellence showing the consistency and high level of professional training and consulting services offered by the KarelCAD team.

“This latest ATC award highlights the ability of the KarelCAD Training team to provide the best and most consistent training courses and Professional Services across the entire Asia Pacific Region, and also shows that our adoption of new software and consistent growth is helping clients train their design teams and produce better workplace results”
Shane Morris – KarelCAD Technical Solutions Manager

“KarelCAD has always looked forward in both the training ability of their team and the adoption of new products and work practices using Autodesk Solutions. This award is recognition that our training facilities and Autodesk Certified Trainers are at the highest standard across the Asia Pacific Region.”

Paul Laycock – KarelCAD CEO

KarelCAD's status as an Autodesk Authorised Training Centre (Advanced ATC) provides us with the ability to deliver services on a wide range of products at each of our training centres and via our mobile training facilities.
